

Farm tour of Sweet Grass Dairy

Jeremy and Jessica Little

At Sweet Grass Dairy Jeremy and Jessica Little handcraft fresh, soft-ripened and naturally aged cow cheeses that are unique and delicious. They create old-world style cheeses that highlight the rich, high quality milk their cows produce. You can truly taste the difference. They are dedicated to remaining a family-owned and operated dairy. Sweet Grass Dairy is not just a brand, but a way of life for the Littles. They believe in creating the highest quality products, partnering with the best producers and having genuine relationships with their customers.

Started in 2000, the Sweet Grass Dairy operation now consists of a 140-acre farm and production facility, an online mail order business, a creative corporate office (pivot) and a brick and mortar local Cheese Shop. All located in Thomasville, Georgia.

Jessica and Jeremy love Thomasville, Georgia, so much they put a restaurant and retail shop in the heart of it. Started in 2010, this evolving venture is their opportunity to enjoy the best of Sweet Grass Dairy with you. They extend the invitation to their farm table to share their cheeses, favorite accompaniments and hospitality. They believe that every product has a story and they offer products selected with intention. They present an ever- changing menu with a variety of options to suit all of your needs. A small sampling of their menu includes artisan cheese and charcuterie boards, hand crafted sandwiches, salads, small plates, and desserts.

The Littles declare who they are through the following statement on their website: We are a family, a team of community conscious, food loving, artisan cheese makers and sellers. We're do-gooders who care about education and sustainable agriculture. We strive to be the kind of people that you want to sit with on your front porch.
