Something to Ruminate On:

Hopefully, the Grazing School materials we’ve covered today have given you something on which to ruminate. Take each of these three identical pages and devote them to considering some new technique, grazing method, different forage species or variety, or even a wholesale change in your grazing system. Let us know what your thoughts are and what factors are going into your consideration.

Farm or Family Name (Optional) ____________________________________________

List a specific item/issue that you are considering?

______________________________________________________________________

______________________________________________________________________

List 5 advantages of putting this practice into place:

1. _________________________________________________________________

2. _________________________________________________________________

3. ____________ _______________________________________________________

4. _________________________________________________________________

5. _________________________________________________________________

List 5 challenges to putting this practice into place:

1. _________________________________________________________________

2. _________________________________________________________________

3. _________________________________________________________________

4. _________________________________________________________________

5. _________________________________________________________________